

News and Citizen,

MORRISVILLE AND HYDE PARK.

L. H. LEWIS, EDITOR.

Congressman Latimer wins the U. S. Senatorship from South Carolina over Gov. Evans, in the second vote at the primaries. He will succeed McLaurin and be "Pitchfork" Tillman's colleague.

The oldest member of the next Legislature will be Arnold Ball of East Haven, a Democrat, aged 78. The youngest will be Harmon E. Eddy, Republican, of Stratton, aged 21. He is now attending the University of Vermont.

Complete returns give F. G. Fleetwood a majority of 1679 in Lamoille county—the largest of any candidate on the state ticket. In Morrisville he has 562 majority. Fred is popular all over the state, but no more than in his own county and home.

The veteran editor and author, Murat Halstead of Cincinnati, wants to go to Congress. There are several aspirants in the same district for the same place, but to send Halstead would be a fitting recognition of the editor's hard work for the party as well as an able selection for Congress.

Addicks and Anti-Addicks are the names of the factions that are working overtime in Delaware. In the meantime the state is without representation in the United States Senate, and a commonwealth that has begun a good Republican record threatens to go over to the Democracy.

That Secretary of the Treasury, L. M. Shaw, knows how to handle the financial conditions and needs of the country was strongly proved by the action taken by him Saturday last to relieve the monetary stringency. The President made no mistake when he gave "the son of Lamoille" the Treasury portfolio.

Some of the papers are inclined to think that Winston Churchill, the author, will fail to get into the New Hampshire legislature, because some of the natives over in Cornish "have aspirations." The people of Cornish know a good thing when they have it and we bet a big apple that Winston will get there if he wants to.

Beattie S. Balester of Dummerston, best known because Rudyard Kipling married his sister, was a candidate for Representative at the recent election. He was defeated by one vote, but declares he will contest the election. He is upwards of thirty and says he never voted before. He deserved defeat for that reason if no other.

New York Republicans will give President Roosevelt hearty endorsement in their coming convention. Like other Republican State Conventions, the Empire State will readily fall into line in that respect. Tom Platt at first thought it wouldn't, but then a man can change his mind—especially when circumstances demand it.

The New Hampshire Democrats re-affirmed allegiance to the "essential principles of the Democracy of the Nation." That glittering generality "may pass muster" in New Hampshire but in most states it would completely satisfy neither the Bryan nor gold Democrats. Each faction would insist upon a more definite declaration.

Northfield is to have a $25,000 library building; that is if the town will furnish the site. A person who does not wish his name published will give the above amount. Of course Northfield will not publish the name and will furnish the site "quicker'n you can say Jack Robinson." If she don't Northfield is very different from ordinary towns.

The son of the Senator McMiller of Michigan has withdrawn from wishing to succeed his father. He found that he was looked upon merely as his father's son and this was mortifying to him. Gen. Alger, who aspires to the place, finds himself opposed by D. M. Ferry, the seedsman of Detroit. The Governor has not filled the vacancy and may leave it to the legislature.

It is really amusing to see the "strenuous" efforts the Clement organs are using to make people believe that the Republican party of Vermont will repudiate its pledge as to a referendum of the liquor law. The Republican party does not go back on its promises; it always has and always will fulfill its pledges. That is why the people—the plain, common people—have faith and confidence in it. No sir! the pledge of the State Convention will be carried out and the people will have a chance to say whether they want license or not. The Republican party will not use "ramrod" methods, but will give the people an opportunity to act. Don't forget this fact.

Horace Bailey has been prominently mentioned in connection with the Speakership of the next House, but he says that in his opinion Hon. John H. Merrifield of Newfane, is the most competent man he knows for the office. The Burlington Free Press very truly says Mr. Bailey's suggestion "is frankness and magnanimity, both unusual and admirable." It might be for some people, but is just like Horace, unselfish as he is. Mr. Merrifield will make a most excellent Speaker and Mr. Bailey a valuable member. We trust there may be found among the members a whole lot more of the character of these two worthy men.

The biennial contest for the Chaplaincy of the House and Senate is now on. What is the matter with this suggestion? There are four or five clergymen members of the House and why not elect one of them as Chaplain? Let the Senate and House unite in devotional exercises. A Chaplain from that body would be on the ground continually and know just what the "spiritual needs" of the assembly would be. Seriously, let there be an end, if possible, to the unseemly scramble for the position of Chaplain.

"A Wrecked Institution" is the title of a book just issued by J. W. Ketchum. It treats upon the affairs of the wrecked Vergennes bank and in a burlesque manner gives away the transactions of that noted institution. An interesting chapter might have been added if "Jay Was Kaught" would give in detail why he is serving seven years in jail at Burlington for the part he played in the drama.

The New York Herald has at the head of its editorial column daily, "The People's Anti-Trust Candidates for 1904. For President of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt of New York; for Vice President, George Dewey of Vermont." The first name is all right, but the latter can hardly be classed as a Vermonter, other than that he was born here, neither is it known how he is on the trust question.

The Retail Merchants' Protective Association of Dunkirk, N. Y., has resolved to "refrain in the future from patronizing so called fake advertising schemes," and to make more liberal use of space in the home newspapers, which go to the homes and are read by all the members of the family. This is a good decision that merchants everywhere might most profitably adopt.

When we read a published statement of a Representative elect to the effect that "all the money—has got cannot buy my vote," a suspicion arises that, perhaps, the writer is hinting that some other candidate may have the requisite sum to purchase said vote.—White River Junction Landmark.

Correct! It would be well for the aforesaid person's constituency to keep an eye on their Representative. He certainly will bear watching.

Here is what Gen. Alger, former Secretary of War, says of President Roosevelt:—

The President has more than met the expectations of his most sanguine friends. The Presidency is a position of infinite and complicated duties at best. He has, however, met and mastered every problem that came to him. He is a man of robust Americanism, of high ideals, of great mental vigor and discipline and remarkable aptitude for the discharge of high public duty. That he will be nominated in 1904 I hope and do not doubt.

The pay of the State's Attorney for Lamoille County is $500 and fees, of which there are not a few. The Judge of Probate gets $600 and fees.

At the annual meeting of the St. J. & L. C. Railroad held at St. Johnsbury last week, the old board of directors was elected as follows:—A. G. Folsom, Charles Stevens, W. H. Turner and H. Blodgett of St. Johnsbury, C. S. Page of Hyde Park, Geo. W. Hendee of Morrisville and Lucius Tuttle of Boston.

Mont Pelee has become an old story, and the excitement that attended the first eruption cannot be repeated. But nevertheless the recent outbreak of this mountainous vent on the island of Martinique affected a larger territory than any preceding eruption, and a thousand persons lost their lives. There would have been more killed if there had been more to kill. Martinique is a good island to steer away from.

A Pennsylvania miner owned a dog suffering with the mange and at last concluded to put the dog out of its misery. He took the animal into the woods, tied two sticks of dynamite to his tail, and touched a match to the fuse. When the powder began to hiss the dog made a bee line for the house, and hid away under it. The miner, managed by lusty shouting to alarm the members of his family and get them out before the dynamite took effect. The dog was blown to pieces along with the house.

Shall Women Vote on the Local Option Referendum?

Heretofore the women of Vermont have had no voice in political or legislative matters, and they have not as a unit desired any. But the present agitation of the liquor law question interests them as well as the men and a determined attempt will be made to persuade the General Assembly to allow the women to vote on the substitution of a local option bill for the prohibitory law. If the attempt is successful, probably three-fourths of the women would vote for prohibition and would hold the balance of power. The prohibitionists will therefore favor the plan and the license men will oppose it. It is generally assumed, though by no means certain, that a referendum would be useless under such circumstances as local option is sure to be voted down.

Inasmuch as there is no provision in the constitution in the laws of Vermont for a referendum, the General Assembly may impose such restrictions as it sees fit, it being a purely voluntary method of obtaining the popular decision. It was of course understood in the republican state convention that "the will of the people" meant the will of the legal voters, but the legislator is empowered to rule otherwise if it so chooses. If then it is legally and morally right for the women to take part in the referendum, what good reason is there in denying them the opportunity?

One reason is that a large number of them do not want to vote.

Another reason is that as the liquor law is a restriction of economic expediency it must be settled entirely apart from sentimentalism. The women are all for temperance, but if they had the opportunities which men have to see how prohibition fails to promote temperance not so many of them would be prohibitionists. To vote on the question they should not only have emotions, but also knowledge. It is undeniable that they are prohibited from gaining knowledge except in extreme cases.—Lundon Tribune.

There was a large and representative gathering at the residence of F. L. Fish, Vergennes, Thursday evening, the occasion being a reception given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Andrews, who retire from their connection with the industrial school after thirteen years of active superintendence of its affairs.

Montpelier has a case of diphtheria, a son of John O'Neil, on Barre St., being ill with that disease. The house has been strictly quarantined and Dr. William Lindsay, the health officer, will watch the case closely. He has secured samples of the water used at the house which will be analyzed in an attempt to locate the disease.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409-415 Pearl Street, New York. 50c and $1.00; all druggists.

By a Plurality Vote.

Election of state officers in Vermont ought to be by plurality, and settled definitely at the polls. The legislature is not representative of the people, and no adequate reason can be given for turning the state election over to it. Suppose Clement, who is in the minority at the polls, should be able, by some combination or scheming, to secure the election in the assembly, or suppose that Clement had led McCullough as much as McCullough now leads Clement, but owing to the Bennington man's strength in the small towns he should win out in the legislature. In either case, we should have a minority governor, elected over a candidate who led the ultimate winner at the polls. This is not right. It has happened in times past. Most states elect by plurality. Vermont should.—Ran dolph Herald and News.

Beware of the Knife.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but should not be used only when absolutely necessary. Incases of piles for example, it is seldom needed. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequaled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill. "De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothe and heal.

STATE NEWS.

During the month of July, Orange county creamery (Chelsea) received 1,654 pounds of cream and 301,642 pounds of milk from which were made 15,685 pounds of butter. Deducting freight and commission $3,251.73, were received for butter sold, the current expenses being $387.43. Patrons were paid 20 1/2 cts. per pound for butter fat. The condensed creamery at Richmond paid for July milk, 85 cents per hundred without testing. The Jonesville creamery paid 82 cents per hundred for standard milk with the split milk returned. Probably the largest tree in this state stands at Starksboro Gore, at Starksboro. Someone, who apparently would like to destroy this tree, has built a fire in it next to the ground and burned out the inside so that there is a hollow that will admit eight good sized men who can stand up inside of it. The trunk of the tree measures 32 feet in circumference about one foot from the ground. Several persons who have visited this tree have cut their initials in the bark. One man in particular, who made the visit there last year from Cornwall is 93 years old and was L. W. Wright.

The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Julia Fullington Thursday afternoon and evening of this week. F. Davis is busy putting our roads in good shape. Should any one think our roads rough they should travel through Bakers field.

A Sad Disappointment.

Ineffective liver medicine is a disappointment, but you don't want to purge, strain and break the glands of the stomach and bowels. De Witt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They cleanse the system of all poison and putrid matter and do it so gently that one enjoys the pleasant effects. They are a tonic to the liver. Cure biliousness, torped liver and pervert liver.

There was a law suit at the Center the 12th between Reuben Davis and Daniel Bonnet. G. Start of Bakersfield appeared for Bonnet and Wm. Tracy of Johnson for Davis. The jury did not agree and another trial will be held October 3. The home of Rev. G. H. Kent was the scene of quite a happy birthday party Friday, the 12th, as many of their friends met there to celebrate their birthday. The guests presented them with a Morris chair, a lap robe and a small amount of money. Cake and coffee were served. O. H. Potter presented the gifts and remarks were made by the pastor and others.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists.

NORTH HYDE PARK.

Nearly all have finished haying. Who haven't, want to. The sick are all improving, so far as we have been informed. Mrs. Julia Heath of Johnson, is spending a few days with Mrs. S. Newton and assisting her about her household cares. Martin Griswold and family of Eden were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Hugh Tomlinson, the first of the present week. G. W. Wilson, formerly a North Hyde Park boy, now for the past 18 years a respected citizen of South Dakota, is visiting his old friends of long ago. Don't forget the supper of the Ladies' Mite Society, which will be at the home of Mrs. Emma Bailey's next Friday afternoon and evening. All are invited. The people of this vicinity are busy these days; are quite busy pulling beans, digging potatoes, pitching quoits and other minor games—getting ready to attend the Fair, which is near at hand. What is known as the Hooper bridge is undergoing slight but needed repairs, also the Stufflebean bridge on the Johnson and Eden road is suffering the same treatment. They both have to be doctored every year and then it is a job to get over them.

The great object of attraction the past week has been the dead dog, found near S. Miles' sugar house near the village. It is evident that she died suddenly from wounds received from somebody unknown, even to E. Gallop or E. Bulard. Neither of these gentlemen think it was a case of accidental suicide, as the hide was ripped from the rear to near the middle of the body and the meat severed from the bone by some sharp instrument.

We don't hear much said about the Governor's question of late. There was never a time when our coming Assembly could immortalize their name as the present. First elect Gen. McCullough, the man who will serve the people well. Next repeal the prohibitory liquor law, which has made the people more trouble the past forty odd years than all the other laws combined; settle with our fish and game exterminators and cow butchers and railroad wreckers, and pay them, if it ought to be due; be sure to discharge them when paid and take a receipt in full; then adjourn at once and come directly home, after paying your board bills—don't stop till you arrive at that sacred spot.

Riverside.

Edwin Styles had a heifer killed by lightning recently. Mr. McGowan from West Enosburgh, was at Fred Crowell's last week. Mrs. M. J. Smith is spending several days at Elmer Rider's in Morrisville. Mrs. Hellen Styles is doing crayon work to quite an extent this season. Call and see her work. Cassius Gray and wife from the north village visited their daughter, Mrs. Jessie Lilley, last Sunday. Willard Whitcomb has bought of C. A. Knight a span of heavy horses. He is getting ready for the race.

McKinstry Hill.

Bertha Page, who has been in Johnson of late, has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson visited their daughter in Eden last week. Harlie Jones recently purchased a horse of Mr. Gomo of Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. A. Haskins of Cleveland Corners, were guests of Harlie Jones' people Sunday. Ned Cowan and Maud Warren attended the funeral of her father, Jonas Sulham, at East Montpelier last week. The school house has been raised and a new underpinning put under it. Mr. Hurlburt and Mr. Boyes did the work. H. A. Stewart and wife, who have been spending a week with their son, Geo. Stewart, have returned to their home in Lowell.

George Stewart, wife and two sons, Merl and Rex, took a carriage drive last week, visiting friends and relatives in Wolcott, Enosburgh and Morrisville. Harlie Jones, who recently lost a horse, wishes to thank those who kindly contributed money for the purchase of another horse, as it came at a most acceptable time.

A Remarkable Record. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers where it failed to affect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substances and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult.
